Industry leading training services

Scotland Transerv, a joint venture between Balfour Beatty and Mouchel Consulting offers a comprehensive training service which is dedicated to providing our clients and supply chain with the necessary qualifications and experience to operate safely, efficiently and to industry standards.

With fully certified assessors, who travel the length and breadth of the UK, we are able to offer an extensive range of accredited courses for employers and their employees across multiple sectors.

Our training expertise

All courses are certified by the awarding body and delivered by our experienced in house team. Through both classroom based learning and practical assessments we ensure each candidate can display the behaviours and attributes required within the industry.

With a flexible approach to learning our team can tailor our courses and locations to meet the needs of your business.

Testimonial

I would take the opportunity to offer my thanks for the recent course that you delivered.

Your presentation was first class, full of real life instances both humorous and sad and I can say with conviction that there was not a dull moment during the course.
